About National University

A private nonprofit university serving the whole student

Founded in 1971 by U.S. Navy Capt. Dr. David Chigos, National University's mission is to provide an accessible, world-class student experience that ensures student success through meaningful learning. NU is comprised of seven schools and colleges serving more than 50,000 degree-seeking students and 80,000 workforce and professional development students annually across the United States and abroad with a growing global network of more than 230,000 alumni in 50 states and 20 countries. Celebrating 52 years of educational excellence, we are proud to share that 50 percent of our undergraduate students are affiliated with the U.S. military, we are the largest conferrer of graduate degrees to minority students in the U.S., and we are the third largest conferrer of doctoral degrees to diverse students. As one of the largest Minority-Serving Institutions in the United States, two-thirds of NU's students and graduates are racially diverse, and approximately 40 percent of our learners are first-generation college students, and 30% of our bachelor's degree completers are Latino.

National University supports healthy learning experiences by supporting the whole student during each learner's education journey and beyond. We focus on the road ahead through pioneering efforts in learning-centered innovation, providing next-generation education, and offering more than 190+ online and on-campus programs with flexible four- and eight-week classes and one-to-one graduate education models designed to help students reach their goals while balancing busy lives. Further, we are dedicated to creating positive economic outcomes and social mobility through value-rich learning experiences that meet the unique needs of our diverse population of working adults, parents, members of the military, teachers, and healthcare professionals seeking pathways to possibility to improve their lives and the lives of those around them. As we move forward, we remain steadfast in our mission to provide current and future generations of diverse students the best opportunities for quality education to achieve their goals in life.

In 2022, the merger of National University with Northcentral University was completed, bringing together the talent and expertise of the two organizations to offer a comprehensive suite of academic programs from pre-college to doctoral level, along with a focus on microcredentials and workforce programs. This new structure will enable National University – along with its affiliates, including City University of Seattle, Workforce Education Solutions, Cause Research Institute, Harmony Academy, and the Fundraising Academy Cause Selling Education – to further develop new approaches such as credential-rich education and next-generation education, as well as focus on supporting the whole student through each one's entire education journey.

As we look to the future, National University will continue to be a catalyst for educational innovation, inclusion, and transformation. We will work to build, strengthen, and advance partnerships; expand career-relevant certificates and degrees to prepare our students for the jobs of today and of the future; implement new technologies into our learning spaces to enhance lifelong learning; improve the lives of diverse populations of students through pathways to opportunity; and shape the future of education and the communities we serve for generations to come.

The National University mace

Centuries ago, monarchs went to battle accompanied by soldiers armed with swords and bishops armed with maces. Both swords and maces served the same purpose: They were brutal weapons designed to protect the monarch in battle. Over time, as the protective role of bishops diminished, the mace became a ceremonial scepter that represented the monarch's authority. While the original maces were heavy clubs constructed to break armor, the ceremonial maces were magnificent pieces assembled from precious metals and jewels that beautifully displayed the monarch's coat of arms. Over time, the mace was adopted by universities to represent the authority of the university to confer academic degrees and honors. As such, a mace represents the unique values and culture of a university.

In celebration of National University's 25th anniversary year (1996), Carol Hinton of the San Diego-based Hinton Group was commissioned to design a mace for the University that would serve the traditional function of representing academic authority and capture the fresh, innovative spirit of a young university serving a unique population of nontraditional learners.

Constructed by Barton Ward of Montbleau & Associates, San Diego, the mace is comprised of wood, granite, and etched glass, with accents of pewter and lapis. The mace was conceived as a scaffold to highlight the University's seal, which portrays National University as a traditional yet innovative institution.

Other significant components include:

- The open framework, representing access to the learning environment that the University provides to all students
- The crown, representing the learner's lifelong quest for knowledge
- The globe, representing the University's diversity and its status as a global institution of higher learning
- The inscription of the Latin motto, DISCENDO VIVIMUS — "We live through learning"

When not in use, the mace is displayed at the University's Spectrum Business Park campus.

Academic regalia

The pageantry of commencement exercises dates from the Middle Ages and the traditions of Europe's first universities.

The gown is an adaptation of the medieval priest or friar robe and is distinctive for each degree. The bachelor's gown is yoked with a closed front and long pointed sleeves. The master's gown can be worn open and has long sleeves slit above the elbow to allow the forearm to protrude. The doctoral gown has velvet panels down the front and three velvet bars on each of the full bell-shaped sleeves. The color of the velvet may indicate the academic discipline: purple for law, dark blue for philosophy, light blue for education, white for humanities and arts, gold for science, and orange for engineering.

The hood evolved from a priest's cowl and is worn by master's and doctoral candidates. The lining color or colors are those of the college or university granting the degree.

At National University, the hood is light gray and blue. The monk's skullcap became the mortarboard cap or tam. Black is accepted in the United States, but many foreign universities have distinctive and colorful headdresses.

Tassels vary in use and color. Doctoral tassels are usually gold; master's and bachelor's are black. At National University, master's candidates wear black tassels, and bachelor's tassels match their college's colors. Honor graduates wear silver cords, and military graduates wear a red, white, and blue cord.

CONGRATULATIONS!

#NUGrad2024

Meet Navi, Our NU Navigator!

My name is Navi, and I'm honored to be National University's Navigator – your beacon of strength, vision, wisdom, and determination.

Some may consider me a mere mascot, but I aspire to be far more. I intend to help you navigate obstacles to achieving your degree while instilling the satisfied confidence that comes from living life on your own terms. I will strive to make you proud that you chose NU to nurture your goals and dreams.

I am a peregrine falcon, the fastest creature in the wild kingdom. Swift, strong, and fearless, capable of soaring to wondrous heights and diving at breathtaking speeds to capture unbridled possibility. Known for my acute vision, I am able to see your true potential, oftentimes long before it becomes clearly defined in your own mind.

Perched upon your goals and aspirations, I will guide you to unprecedented heights of personal achievement, academic accomplishment, and professional satisfaction. Together, we will navigate obstacles as you focus on the bright horizons of forthcoming opportunities.

Look up to the sky.
How high can you soar?
How far can you fly? Your future looks so bright, and I look forward to flying with you every step of the way.

Congratulations, graduates!

Navi
